

THE INFOLOGICAL APPROACH OF INFORMATION QUALITY IMPROVEMENT

Summary

The aim of this article is to show the infological approach as part of the quality theory of information. It distinguishes between infological and datalogical work area. The infological information is dependent on recipient prior knowledge and his interpretation process during the time. Datalogical information is objective and independent on recipient. Based on this approach information quality issue and possibilities of improvement were presented.

Translate by Wiesława Gryncewicz